

2024 Board Election Candidates

In order by last name

Neil Landaas

I moved to Snohomish County in 1995 and have been growing and selling organic produce from my own properties for 17 seasons. During the summer you will often find me at local farmers markets selling vine-ripened heirloom tomatoes, cucumbers and basil from our farm, Flying Tomato Farm. When I am not farming I am engaged in property maintenance or working with leather, repairing a saddle, tooling a custom belt or sewing up a bag.

I have a bachelors degree in Journalism from Seattle University and spent 6 years in the Marines working with Heavy Equipment. I have been serving on the board of directors for the Snohomish and Monroe Farmers Co-Op since 2017. I was the Manager of the Snohomish Farmers Market and the Edmonds Summer Market from 2002-2013.

It is my belief that it is important to nurture and support these local family farmers as they are stewards of the land they work, and they occupy a position on the front lines of our regional food system economy.

I have been serving on the Snohomish Conservation District Board of Supervisors for 1 year in an appointed position. I would be honored to be elected and serve the upcoming term.
